S. U. H. S. BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS

The board of trustees of Sequoia Union High School held an important meeting last Saturday. The board was organized by the re-election of L. P. Behrens as president and D. E. O'Keefe as secretary, positions which both have filled for many years.

All the old teachers were chosen for the coming year and all received a slight raise in their salaries. It was agreed to equip the manual training building with up to date machinery to cost in the neighborhood of $4,000. Professor Gill, the manual training teacher, was chosen to teach full time instead of a half day. Heretofore he spent the forenoon at the high school and the afternoon at the grammar school. The board decided on hiring an extra teacher next term, but as yet have not agreed on one. The appointment will be deferred for some time.

The school year will end on June 27.

Professor Scott Thomas of the State University has lately inspected the school and has commended its work to the principal and trustees. Professor McGee, principal of the school, made a lengthy report to the board. Among the recommendations made by him are the following:

"The continuation of school law lately approved by the governor calls for instruction for all boys and girls between 14 and 18 years of age for at least four 60-minute periods each week between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. for nine months each year. This will add at least 23 pupils to our school who must be taught in separate classes from 8 to 9 and from 4 to 5, or maybe at both periods. The subjects most likely to be demanded will be shop work, drawing, arithmetic, bookkeeping, English and sewing and cooking. Nearly all of our teachers will be needed in this work. Under this law many pupils who have dropped out of high or grammar school will be compelled to return. At first the work will be an uphill job and very trying on the teacher and student. At present no teacher gives instruction for less than five periods each day. All but one teach six periods and the one teaching five has the two heaviest study hall periods of the day, or the last quarter day.

Provision for foreigners between 15 and 21 who have no greater knowledge of English than a child of the sixth grade must be made for four 60-minute periods each week for nine months each year in a night school. And as a night school must be opened to meet this need, provision should be made for other adults needing or wanting such instruction. If these students can be got into the school and held to their work, the night school can be made almost or altogether self-supporting. But teachers who render this extra service for one hour each day for those instructed before 9 or after 4, and those who give four to six hours of instruction in the night school each week on two or three evenings from 7 to 9, must be amply compensated for such service. No consideration has yet been given to this important matter by the board of trustees. It should not be settled without careful thought, to the end that justice may be done to the teachers and to the youth of the community as well.

Merrill, who furnished the location and material for the bath houses and of the aid rendered by J. L. Bar-neson for the springboards and other material furnished by him.

THE COUNTY GOES OVER THE TOP

L. P. Behrens, chairman of the Victory Loan committee, reports that San Mateo county will go over the top and will have a safe margin. Every-one has reason to be proud of this. The county has always done its duty and it has not shirked it at this time when it was feared that the quota would not be reached. South San Francisco and Redwood City districts' quotas were $185,000 each and they have fully subscribed these amounts, while the San Mateo quota was $140,000. It has also subscribed this sum. The Redwood City district is far in the lead and will largely over-subscribe. The coast side of the county is reporting slowly but surely reaching the goal. Burlingame and Hillsborough are nearing the goal and will reach their quotas this morning. The quota of the county is $700,000 and at a late hour last evening over $650,000 had been subscribed. It is expected that by night the county will be largely oversubscribed. Much credit is due the workers of the campaign for this splendid success.

With the 10th of May in sight, the closing day of the Victory Loan, San Mateo county has reason to feel proud of itself. We have made good again, as we all knew that we should, only the work was a little slower this time. A great many people having invested heavily on the other bond issues were not able to respond as largely when the call came for the Victory Loan. This was the very best bond issue, with the most attractive inducements of any offered to the public. That the public has risen to this has been proven by the fact that Menlo Park alone sold $47,750 worth of bonds up to May 9. Atherton, Woodside, Portola, San Carlos, Belmont and Redwood City have all done their share nobly and the Victory Loan is closing with a great feeling of satisfaction throughout the community of having stood by Uncle Sam to the last and of having helped him to "Pitch the Kaiser."

MRS. B. M. BREEDEN, Chairman Women's Liberty Loan Committee.

WM. McDONALD THE BASSO APPEARS IN THE EAST

A paper published in Gary, Ind., in a recent issue published an article concerning a former Redwood City man. The article is as follows: "Gary has a galaxy of stars from the musical world such as presented the McDonald concert at the First Methodist church last evening. The entire program was beyond all expectations and those who missed the program will have little consolation, for it will be a long time before another such program of artists can be assembled."

"William McDonald, the great California basso, who has come to be called 'Gary's Own,' because he did his bit during the war in the Gary steel mills, was the program's headliner with his deep rich songs and splendid readings. Few men have such a reading voice and it is already conceded that he is on the highest rung of the ladder as a bass. He received a fine ovation that demonstrated his closeness to the hearts of Gary folk and he received applause that approved his ability and merit. Many expressed a hope that he might be induced to appear again in the near future before re-entering the Lyceum field."

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Mr. and Mrs. Atholl McBean of San Francisco have taken a place here for the summer and expect to move in with their children June 1.

Mrs. Mary McCormick, a sister of Mrs. F. X. Kavanaugh, Mrs. Joseph and James Kerr, passed away in San Francisco last Tuesday and was buried at Holy Cross cemetery, Colma, on Thursday last. The deceased was the oldest of the Flannery girls and was raised at Colma. She had been a resident of the city for many years. Mrs. McCormick is survived by two children.

Mr. J. Lee Pipkin and her little daughter, Lillian, departed yesterday for the east to spend a few months with relatives.

Mrs. J. F. Shannon, a prominent resident of San Jose, is here spending the week-end with Mrs. James Kerr. Mrs. Emma J. Fonda, mother of Guy L. Fonda, the local photographer, was found dead in her bed by Dr. J. L. Ross Sunday morning, she having passed away during the previous night of heart trouble. Mrs. Fonda was an old resident of Redwood City. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Guy Fonda of this city and Mark H. Fonda of San Jose. The funeral was held Wednesday from the chapel of the James Crowe Company, thence to San Jose for services. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery in that city.

The petition of young Sweeney, one of the Josephine A. Phelps heirs, to set aside the trust clause of the will executed by Mrs. Phelps some time before her death, came up for hearing in the superior court on Monday. John L. McNab appeared for Sweeney, whose mother was a sister of Mrs. Phelps. Mrs. Sweeney passed away six months ago. All the heirs were represented in court by their respective attorneys. Ross & Ross appeared for Mrs. Virginia Lord and Attorney Sharpstein for the executor. Should the trust clause be broken the heirs would get their portions shortly and would not have to wait for years.

Judge Buck suggested that if something were not done soon it would be necessary for the court to take drastic steps to give the other heirs their shares before death should remove them all.

Mrs. Timothy Guy Phelps, widow of a well known banker, locked up her estate when she died in a trust with W. F. Chipman and the Union Trust Company as trustees. The will gave the estate to the trustees and directed them to provide a fund of $240,000, out of which annuities were to be paid to her three sisters and two brothers during their lifetime.

Inasmuch as no time was fixed within which the property of the estate must be disposed of and the trust fund created, the trustees have so far accumulated only about $5,000. After covering the expenses of the trust, the trustees have been unable to have failed so far to provide an adequate fund by the sale of property. Judge Buck continued the case for one week and suggested that the trustees and heirs should make an effort to arrive at a settlement by which the entire estate would be wound up and the heirs receive their money.

All fraternal Aid members are requested to be present at the meeting on Tuesday evening, May 13, as there are several matters of importance to be considered at that time. If there are members from outside A. U. lodges in Redwood City, we should be glad to welcome them at our meetings.

J. R. Fisher, an experienced baker of San Francisco, has leased a store John McCormick has just probated Thursday, one dated February 1919, and the other September 6, 1913. They were both holographic and the bequests were very nearly the same. The court admitted the 1913 will to probate. It was shown that the decedent was not competent to make a will when the last document was executed, then, too, it was irregularly drawn. Attorney J. F. Utter is the attorney for the will admitted to probate.

The day before she ran away with an employee of the gardens, deserting her two children, a boy and girl aged 3 and 5 years, respectively.

The weekly merchants' lunch on Thursday was largely attended by the business men of the city. Many questions of importance were discussed. W. J. Biehl, secretary of the Palo Alto Merchants' Association, addressed the group in reference to having a commercial register of Redwood City made. They have one in the college town and it is a success. All the members looked favorably on the proposition advanced by Mr. Biehl and took the matter under advisement.

The town trustees' proposition to have the telephone and telegraph wires placed underground, thus doing away with unsightly poles, was discussed. The merchants look with favor on the proposition and will endorse it at another meeting. The Chamber of Commerce at its meeting on Tuesday next will approve the scheme.

The dinner of the merchants to be held in a local cafe next Thursday will be largely attended, as matters of vital importance to the city are to be discussed. All the members of the association are requested to be present and take part in these discussions.

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold a food sale this afternoon at 50 Broadway, commencing at 2 o'clock. Good home cooked food of all kinds will be there. The patronage of the public is solicited.

The big dance of the season takes place at Bonzagni Lodge this evening. Everyone is going, for it is to be one of the most enjoyable events of the year. The Stefanie orchestra will furnish splendid music. Of course anyone can tell about the delicious suppers served at Bonzagni's, they cannot be equalled anywhere. Get your reservations early and get in with the big crowd that will be there. For heaven's sake don't miss this large event.

James Zanzara, who recently returned with the 363rd regiment from France, visited friends in Redwood City yesterday. He was in the battle of the Argonne and relates how his company of 172 men went on to take a certain point from the enemy. They took it but of the 172 boys only 48 returned. He was one of the fortunate 48. He believes he was born under a lucky star. He is glad to be back to his mountain home in La Honda.

JOHN MCCORMICK WILL ADMITTED TO PROBATE

There were two wills of the late John McCormick up for probate Thursday, one dated February 1919, and the other September 6, 1913. They were both holographic and the bequests were very nearly the same. The court admitted the 1913 will to probate. It was shown that the decedent was not competent to make a will when the last document was executed, then, too, it was irregularly drawn. Attorney J. F. CITY TRUSTEES ORDER POLES OFF MAIN STREETS

At the meeting of the city board Monday evening several important matters were discussed which may prove beneficial to the city. Filthy buildings and unsightly premises were a subject discussed. Harry G. Lewis of 243 Grant avenue addressed the board and presented a petition requesting the board to instruct Mrs. Dinsmore of 109 Grant avenue to clean up her premises, which are covered with debris and refuse of various kinds. The matter was referred to the health officer to investigate and report at the next meeting.

L. P. Behrens called the attention of the board to the bad condition of Jefferson street in the vicinity of its property George H. Lent and A. D. Brady were present and Mr. Brady explained that from the Beeger bridge west to the city limits the street has been kept up by himself and others living along the thoroughfare. No action was taken in the matter, inasmuch as Jefferson street is one of the first to be repaired under the contemplated list of improvements.

Regarding the gasoline roller, which was advertised for at a recent meeting, the board rejected all bids (eight) and instructed the clerk to re-advertise. This action was taken because the advertisements for bids did not include second-hand tandem rollers, and the roller decided upon by the committee is an 8-9-ton tandem, second-hand gas roller. The price seemed to be the main issue, as this roller can be bought for $2,000, while the bids of the tow companies handling new rollers were $3,800.

The following dance permits were granted: Alpin Club, May 24; P. of A. Hall Association, May 17; L. O. O. F. Society Club, May 14, 21 and 28. William J. Monahan of San Francisco was granted a plumbers' license.

The matter of requesting the telephone company to remove its poles from the highway on Broadway to Main street and on Main street from Bradford to the highway, 90 days were granted for this work. On motion Nightwatchman Collins' resignation was accepted to take effect May 1, 1919. City Attorney Mansfield was instructed to draft a suitable letter thanking Mr. Collins for his faithful services while in the employ of the city.

Private Peat at Chautauqua

Famous Canadian Writer and Lecturer
Coming on the Sixth Night

Private Peat is coming to Chautauqua! You have undoubtedly read his story in the Saturday Evening Post. You have perhaps read his book, "Private Peat," which has run through an edition of a million copies and is still one of the "six big sellers" of the day. Or you may have seen him in his "movie" production. Now you can hear him—hear from his own lips—the wonderful story of the early days of the war as only Private Peat can tell it.

"Two Years in Hell and Back with a Smile" sums up this heroic Canadian lad in a few words. He came back from France with one lung gone and his left arm hanging limp, but with his indomitable spirit unbroken and his rare sense of humor unspoiled.

THE SUPERVISORS HOLD MEETING

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, May 5th, at 3 p. m., there being present John MacBain presiding, T. L. Hickey, W. M. Brown, Jos. M. Francis and Dr. C. V. Thompson.

E. W. Watkins, representing the California State Automobile Association, appeared before the board in the matter of replacing the old automobile signs on the county's highways with new ones. In addition to replacing the old signs, many of which he said were dilapidated and worn out, Watkins suggested the erection of about a hundred new signs. The price of the signs, he stated, would not exceed the sum of $3 each and he asked the co-operation and financial assistance of the board in carrying on this work.

District Attorney Swart, who was present at the meeting, stated that he was in favor of the signs and he suggested that the engineer of the Automobile Association go over the highways with the supervisor of each district and determine just what is needed in the way of signs so that the association could come before the board with a definite proposition. The district attorney called attention to the urgent need of fire signs in the county and spoke of the danger of fires this summer on account of the heavy vegetation.

Watkins explained that the Automobile Association had already made arrangements with the state to have fire signs provided and the only cost to the county would be in their erection. Watkins also stated that arrangements were also made to provide concrete tubes for the different counties of the state for depositing rubbish. These tubes, he said, would be placed by the Automobile Association whenever the supervisors decided and at the time the other signs were being erected.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, it was ordered that the engineer of the California State Automobile Association consult with the five supervisors in the county and ascertain just what is needed in each district.

The board took up at this time the hearing of the application of Mrs. Henrietta Brown, proprietor of the Broadwale Kennels, located just north of Redwood City, for a permit to keep more than two dogs at her place.

Mrs. Brown appeared herself in behalf of her petition and explained to the board that she had expended several thousands of dollars in the purchase of property and in construction of the kennels. She was raising thoroughbred Scotch collies, she said, and at the present time had about 18 animals at her place. The dogs were never allowed to roam loose but were always kept within the kennels.

Chase Littlejohn, school trustee of Redwood and whose home is in the north end of the city, and John Lopez, who owns a farm adjoining the property of Mrs. Brown, appeared in opposition to the granting of the petition.

Littlejohn stated that his place was located about a mile from the kennels and that every morning he and his wife were kept awake from an early hour by the barking of the dogs. Lopez complained that the animals by their barking very often kept his family awake all night long.

Testifying in behalf of Mrs. Brown were Mrs. Ernest Dixon and Mrs. Allen McGuire, next door neighbors, who both said that the dogs never bothered them by their barking. "The only time the dogs bark," explained Mrs. McGuire, is when they are hungry and that is only for a few minutes.

"Perhaps the reason that our slumber is not disturbed by the dogs," added Mrs. McGuire humorously, "is because our consciences do not disturb us."

After Mrs. Brown had specified the number dogs that she intended keeping at one time at the kennels, 20, she was granted the permit, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Thompson, all members of the board voting "yes" on roll call with the exception of Chairman MacBain, who voted "no."

E. R. Dimond, who was represented by Attorney Hall C. Ross, was granted a permit to keep six dogs on his ranch in Portola, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Thompson.

A communication was received from the Social Service Commission recommending the increasing of the salary of Miss Boggs, the executive secretary of the commission, from $100 to $150 a month.

In moving to accept the recommendation of the commission, Supervisor Hickey took occasion to speak very highly of the efficient service given by Miss Boggs since her appointment to the above position. Supervisor Brown, who seconded the motion, also spoke highly of Miss Boggs' ability and of the splendid work she is doing. The board accepted the recommendation granting Miss Boggs the increase by a unanimous vote.

The application of F. H. Wods, Jr., for permission to keep five dogs on his place between Portola and the Alpine was laid over until May 12, on account of there being no one present to represent the petitioner.

The report of Newton A. Peck, county horticultural commissioner, for the month of April, 1919, showed that he had inspected 5,086 trees, shrubs and plants during that time, 76 of which had been found infected with "mealy bug" and refused delivery; 10 infected with scale, which were disinfected, and five coming from infected district of Peach Yellow, which were destroyed.

On the report of District Attorney Swart that Camp Fremont was practically a thing of the past, the board, on motion of Thompson, seconded by Francis, granted a liquor license to Julius Schenkel of Portola, whose saloon had been closed at the time of the establishment of the camp in the latter part of 1917.

Peter Mathieson of Woodside, who was also affected by the establishment of the camp, was granted a permit to allow him to reopen his saloon, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Thompson.

A petition signed by Anna M. Lewis and other residents of Halfmoon Bay Lighting District, was received, asking for the placing of an additional light at the corner of Poplar street and the county highway. The prayer of the petitioners was granted, on motion of Francis, seconded by Thompson.

District Attorney Swart presented an ordinance governing the gathering of muskels in the county.

Supervisor Thompson, whose district is particularly interested in this matter, addressed the board in favor of the adoption of the ordinance. He stated that the muskels are getting very scarce and that lately parties from Oakland were making a practice of visiting the coastside of the county and carrying off the muskels in automobile loads to sell in the market.

The ordinance was adopted, on motion of Thompson, seconded by Hickey.

Phyllis M. Merrill, executrix of the estate of her mother, Nellie P. Moulton, who died at Menlo Park on May 7, 1917, has petitioned the superior court for a partial distribution of the estate. The property asked to be distributed to petitioner consists of Geary street holdings, in San Francisco. This comprises the biggest portion of the estate. E. F. Fitzpatrick is the attorney for petitioner.
